design being registered but it is not clear if it ~~should be~~ is new within the meaning of Part II of the Regulation as required in section 59 of the Regulation. Part II has no definition of "new and original" and Section 21 of Part I defining the phrase in relation to inventions is not one of those specifically adopted for designs in Section 59 of the Regulation. That definition would be very inconvenient for it would be difficult to decide whether this design "has not been publicly used in any part of the Territories of Ulysse or British India &c" or "publicly made known &c" The only thing that we can be certain about is that this design or anything ~~very~~ similar to it has not so far been registered in the States, and this perhaps is enough for the purposes of section 50.
